Magic Man Rod recently performed a magic show for our young children, ages 2-5, at our preschool. It was a hit with our young children, and with the adults in attendance. Rod's humor and audience interaction was appropriate for young children and his demeanor was professional and personable. Rod's tricks ranged in skill, and he included some audience participation, which the children loved. Even the teaching staff were mystified with some of the animal tricks. The program lasted just the right length of time for our preschoolers and the cost was reasonable.

I recommend the show, which was fun for all.
