

May 3, 2003

To Whom It May Concern:

It is truly a privilege to speak about the talents of Rod Reyes, "The Magician". As a customer service representative for Bellair Express in Los Angeles, I held a party at my home with approximately 30 guests. Rod was the sole performer hired for the occasion. He was contracted on a rather short notice and accommodated me by making some changing in his personal schedule. He arrived promptly and his appearance was immaculate, in a black tuxedo. Rod exuded a winning demeanor and had a terrific sense of humor at all times – not just during the performance. Yet all of this is nothing, compared to the extraordinary magical exhibition he put on for my guests and me. I honestly can't imagine that a "big name" magician could have impressed my crowd any more!

Without giving away what one might see at one of Rod's performances, let me just say that the often overused adjectives "amazing", "astounding" and "incredible" actually do apply. We all just kept laughing and shaking our heads in disbelief as the show went along. As good as some of the magic was early in the show, each ensuing illusion was more intriguing than the one before until, finally, the last bit of magic was the single most memorable one for me.

Anyone holding an event or party in which this style of entertainment would be appropriate can be sure that they will get much more than their money's worth with Rod Reyes. Here is the highest recommendation and praise that I can offer: that I will use him again in the future!

Sincerely,

A handwritten signature in black ink that reads "John Blackman". The signature is fluid and cursive, with a long horizontal line extending to the right.

John Blackman

