Re: Investor Party – November 13, 2005

Dear Rod:

Let me begin by saying what an absolute treat it was to have you entertain at our recent investor party. Our goal was to provide “background” entertainment that was consistent with our desire for a more sophisticated gathering. You complemented our intentions perfectly.

I appreciate your promptness and consistent communication from beginning to end. More than anything, your professionalism allowed me to step back and enjoy our guests while you did your “magic,” so to speak. You took charge from the moment you arrived and it offered peace of mind that it was one more thing of which I needn’t concern myself.

Your magic was amazing and our guests continue to rave. We anxiously look forward to the next opportunity where we can use your “magic” once again to mesmerize and entertain our guests.

Best Regards,
